

Québec Exploration 2008 - STRIKE IT RICH, EXPLORE QUÉBEC!

QUÉBEC CITY, Nov. 21 /CNW Telbec/ - Ministère des Ressources naturelles et de la Faune, and the Association de l'exploration minière du Québec (AEMQ), presents the sixth edition of Québec Exploration from November 24 to 27 at the Château Frontenac. This event will bring together close to 2,000 participants from the mineral, oil, and gas exploration sectors, as well as from the financial and scientific communities.

This annual gathering is the ideal place to take the pulse of the mining industry amidst the current economic turmoil and to learn about the latest discoveries, most promising mining projects, and new mining camps in Québec and the rest of Canada. It is also a perfect opportunity to catch up with new mineral exploration initiatives in Québec.

A varied and top quality program

As in past editions, Québec Exploration 2008 will again provide participants with an opportunity to hear internationally known speakers and attend workshops and interactive sessions, many of them devoted to exploration activities in Québec. The program covers a wide range of topics, including restrictions on mineral activity, shale gas deposits in the St. Lawrence Lowlands, and First Nations involvement in exploration in Québec. Visitors will also have access to geoscientific and trade exhibits, as well as the Exploration/Investment Forum

Québec Exploration 2008 welcomes the public!
Thursday, November 27, from 12:30 p.m.

In addition to activities for industry experts and stakeholders, Québec Exploration is extending a special invitation to the public-particularly to high school and college students as well as guidance counselors-to come and meet representatives from mineral exploration and oil and gas companies, as well as from the government, the financial sector, and research and educational circles.
